

Website Privacy Policy

The Insolvency Institute of Canada (IIC) is committed to protecting the privacy of its members. The IIC Website is operated in accordance with this same set of values. All personal information collected by IIC via this Website or otherwise is done so in accordance with the following privacy policy. Generally speaking, "personal information" is information about an identifiable individual, subject to more particular definitions or interpretations under applicable law. This privacy statement does not apply to any information that is not personal information as defined in or interpreted under applicable law.

Protecting Your Personal Information

Certain processes available on this Website are intended to collect personal information that a member wishes to provide. The IIC collects no personal information about you unless you choose to provide that information to us. Any personal information about members or visitors is stored securely and used only for the purpose for which it is provided to us.

The handling of all personal information by IIC is governed by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). We are committed to protecting your privacy whether you are browsing for information or conducting business electronically.

Payment Data Collected

All credit card information collected is done so in a SSL Server Authentication environment. IIC uses the information only for the purpose supplied and does not maintain credit card information otherwise.

Aggregate Data

IIC may share aggregate information about its members, participants in its programs, sponsors and visitors to the IIC Website - not individual data - with sponsors, potential sponsors and other parties to help them better understand the IIC membership and their interests. Such aggregate information is shared in order to improve the organization and the programs and services we provide.

The information you provide to IIC - such as your name, address, contact information etc. - allows IIC to inform you about events and activities and to notify you about issues, events or news items which may be of interest to you. Accepting membership or by requesting information or registering for events or conferences offered by IIC, you are giving IIC permission to contact you by way of the information you provide. Members may choose not to be contacted by IIC - please contact the office at iicinfo@associationsfirst.com or 416-646-1600.

IIC WEBSITE

The operating system for the IIC Website (<http://www.insolvency.ca>) may automatically record some general information about your visit, such as:

- Internet Protocol (IP) addresses of the computers being used to access our site;
- the operating systems and the types and versions of browsers used to access our site;
- the Internet Service Providers used by visitors to our site;
- the dates and times users access our site;
- the pages visited;
- the key words users enter into our search engine; and
- the names and sizes of files requested.

If you are logged into the IIC Website, your user name will be recorded along with the date and time of your visit, which pages you viewed, etc.

IIC uses this information for statistical analysis, to help us make our site more useful to visitors. We may disclose this information in aggregate only to third parties such as sponsors, and/or use it for auditing purposes.

The IIC Website may use "cookies" that identify you as a return visitor. A cookie is a piece of data that a Website can send to your browser, which may then store the cookie on your hard drive. So, when you come back to visit IIC's Website again, information can be tailored to suit your individual preferences. The goal is to save you time and provide you with a more meaningful visit and to measure Website activity. Browsers allow you to disable cookie collection if you wish, or inform you when a cookie is being stored on your hard drive.

Security

IIC's security practices are continually evolving to ensure that the integrity and confidentiality of personal information and systems are maintained. IIC uses up-to-date security safeguards to protect its networks and Website from misuse, alteration, copying, disclosure, destruction, monitoring or unauthorized sharing of information and damage. IIC's safeguards include the use of security software and encryption protocols and involve physical, technical and procedural controls to protect information.

Discussion Areas and Surveys

This Website may include discussion pages and/or surveys which allow communication and feedback to IIC members and Website visitors. IIC reserves the right at all times to monitor, edit, refuse to post or to remove any information or materials, in whole or in part, for any reason in IIC's sole discretion, and to deny any user access to the Website. Users accessing the discussion areas agree not to:

- a) restrict or inhibit any other user from using and enjoying the Discussion areas;
- b) post or transmit any unlawful, threatening, abusive, libelous, defamatory, obscene, vulgar, pornographic, profane or indecent information of any kind, or any blatant expression of bigotry, racism, hatred or harassment, including without limitation any transmission constituting or encouraging conduct that would constitute a criminal offence, give rise to civil liability or otherwise violate any local, provincial, federal or foreign law; and

c) post or transmit or in any way exploit any information, software or material for commercial purposes or which contains solicitations for sales or purchases, advertising, promotion or marketing.

Accuracy of Information

While IIC may update the information or materials on this Website from time to time, no assurance is given that information or material on this Website is up-to-date, accurate, error-free or complete.

Viruses, etc.

IIC does not represent or warrant that the information or materials, including without limitation any downloadable software, accessed from or through this Website will be uninterrupted or free of errors, defects, viruses or other harmful components, or that any such problems which are discovered will be corrected.

Damage to Others

You agree not to introduce into or through this Website any information or materials which may be harmful to others. Among other things, you agree not to knowingly or otherwise include any error or defect in material or information which may, among other things, be a libel, slander, obscenity, or promote hatred or otherwise give rise to a criminal offense or civil liability on the part of any person or entity.

Reserve of Rights

All rights not expressly granted in these terms are reserved to IIC. Nothing contained in these terms shall be construed as conferring by implication, estoppel or otherwise, any license or right under any copyright, patent, trademark or other intellectual right of IIC or any other person or entity.

IIC Website Disclaimer

Thank you for visiting this IIC Website.

IIC has taken reasonable measures to ensure that the information and data presented on this Website are accurate and current.
